

Get Your Pink On
With Evansville Emergency Services
On 10-26-11

Our goal is to have city wide participation with "Get Your Pink On" on 10-26-11. We would like everybody in the city to be dressed in pink to support Justice for a Cure. The Evansville Police Department, EMS and Fire Department are raising money to donate to Susan G Koman for the Cure® and have chose 10-26-11 for our day in pink. We have t-shirts for sale for $10.00 (all proceeds donated to Susan G Koman for the Cure®). Please see any EMT or employee of the Evansville Police Department to purchase one.

Upcoming Events:

10-04-11 "Spike Out Breast Cancer"

The Evansville Girls Volleyball Team will be hosting "Spike Out Breast Cancer" night when they host the McFarland Spartans. Please dress in pink for the game. Pink volleyball t-shirts are available for sale for $10.00. Please contact Mary Beaver of EMS or Jill Puckett of the Evansville Police Department if you would like to order one.

This event is at the high school with the JV starting at 5:00pm and the Varsity playing at 6:30. There will also be raffles and a bake sale. Please come join the fun while earning money for a good cause.

10-07-11 "Justice for a Cure" Parade at the Capital Square in Madison. Evansville Police will parade with state wide police.

10-26-11 "Jail N Bail"

During the month of October, you can come to the Evansville Police Department and have someone picked up on 10/26/11 and "put in jail" until they raise bond to get out. It will cost $20.00 to have a "warrant" issued to have them "put in jail." "Inmates" will have to raise $50.00 to be released. So have a list of family and friends that you can call for "bail money."

All proceeds from the events will go to Susan G Koman for the Cure®.
